CANCER?
WE'RE
HERE
FOR YOU

Macmillan Cancer Information and Support Centres in Barts Health NHS Trust Hospitals

Who we are

When you're living with cancer, having the right kind of information and support, at the right time, is essential. We provide confidential, drop-in services for anyone affected by cancer.

This includes people who:

- would like information about cancer
- have a cancer diagnosis
- are living with and beyond cancer
- are looking to reduce the risks of cancer
- are carers, relatives, or friends of someone with cancer
- are healthcare professionals.

How we can help

Our services are staffed by a Macmillan Information and Support Manager and trained volunteers. We provide:

- literature on all aspects of living with cancer
- internet access to guide people to appropriate information resources
- the opportunity to discuss treatments, side effects and other cancer related issues
- the opportunity to talk to someone in private
- over the phone information and support for those not able to access the service in person.

We also offer

- welfare benefits advice
- information in other languages
- links to the clinical teams treating certain cancers
- referral to other available support services, self help and support groups
- health and wellbeing events and workshops.
